Latest News on Synodality

Since the meeting in London on 1st June 2022, the National Synthesis Team has been working on the document, reviewing all the comments made on the day and, where appropriate, have incorporated them into a final synthesis.

From Rev. Canon Christopher Thomas, General Secretary of the Catholic Bishops' Conference of England and Wales:

"The next stage in this work will be for our bishops [who gathered last Tuesday] to review their reflections and discernment of the material in the national synthesis. That document which they are writing, along with the synthesis presented today [the Final Synthesis], will then form our submission to the Synod Office in Rome. This will be considered, along with the other national synthesis documents from around the world, and from these, the Synod Office will produce the Instrumentum Laboris 1 for the work at the European (Regional) Phase. And so the journey of becoming a Synodal Church continues, moving forward to the Regional Phase but also continuing the reflections and work here in England and Wales at the local and diocesan level."

The National Synthesis Document is now available on the Catholic Bishops' Conference of England and Wales' website - www.cbcew.org.uk Search for National Synthesis Document

It is confirmed that this tour will come to Wrexham Diocese as follows :
